Pastor's Corner — Rev. Eric Lane

“Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit...” Matthew 28:19

“O give thanks to the Lord, for he is good;
for his steadfast love endures forever.” -- Psalm 107:1

We have come to the end of the year 2015, and I expect that most of us, if not all of us, are looking forward to 2016 being a better year. With that in mind, I went back to the Old Testament, and re-read the story of Israel crossing the Jordan to enter into the Promised Land.

The day before the people crossed over Jordan, Joshua told them to: “Sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you.” (Joshua 3: 5)

You probably know the rest of the story—of how God did do many great wonders. The journey was not an easy one; there were times when things went well, but along the way we see that the people took matters into their own hands, and turned away from God. When they did this, the people encountered difficulties and hard times; yet, when they were obedient to God, even when faced with hard times, they were able to press on towards the goal.

Even when they turned away from God, and faced the consequences of their choices; God did not abandon them. Instead, God remained with them and waited for them to turn back to him.

My point is that, while we hope that 2016 will be a much better year for us, and while we look forward to beginning the New Year right; we really do not know what the future holds for us or our families. But what we do know is that God is with us—to walk ahead of us to prepare the way, beside us to help us along the way, and behind us to protect us. And even when we stray (and we will), God is still there, waiting and ready to receive us back into his grace.

“Father, we thank you for the gift of life, family, and friends. Looking back on the year, we could not have made it except for your loving grace. Thank you for receiving those whom we have loved and see no more, and for the hope that one day we will once again be reunited with them.

As we look forward Lord, we are gazing into the unknown—a land that we have not yet traveled. Lord, I pray that we will allow you to guide us and protect us; and please forgive us when we fail you. May we love one another as you have first loved us; may we seek to do your will in all that we do; and may we walk each day with you by our side. Amen.”

Happy New Year!

—Rev. Eric Lane

New Wednesday Study

Cindy will be starting a new Bible study on Wednesday evenings based on the book, "Happiness" by Randy Alcorn. The first class will be on January 6th at 7:00 p.m.

How do I hide God's word in my heart? Memorize it!

But you do not live as your human nature tells you to; instead, you live as the Spirit tells you to—if, in fact, God's Spirit lives in you. Whoever does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him.

—Romans 8:9 GNT

Something to Pray About by Cindy Sears

I also pray that you will understand the incredible greatness of God's power for us who believe him. This is the same mighty power<sup>20</sup> that raised Christ from the dead and seated him in the place of honor at God's right hand in the heavenly realms.

—Ephesians 1:19-20

POW'R IN THE BLOOD

There is a song we used to sing in the Baptist church I attended that speaks of the "pow'r in the blood." I was reminded of this song during a Sunday school lesson as we read about "the incredible greatness of God's power for us who believe him" from Ephesians (see above). The question in my mind is: "Do I really believe that God has given me power to live a righteous and productive life for Him in this world?"

Listen to the words of this song:

Verse 1:

Would you be free from the burden of sin?
There's pow'r in the blood, pow'r in the blood;
Would you o'er evil a victory win?
There's wonderful pow'r in the blood.

Chorus:

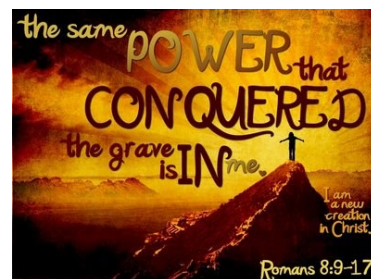

There is pow'r, pow'r, wonder-working pow'r
In the blood of the Lamb;
There is pow'r, pow'r, wonder-working pow'r
In the precious blood of the Lamb.

Verse 4:

Would you do service for Jesus your King?
There's pow'r in the blood, pow'r in the blood;
Would you live daily His praises to sing?
There's wonderful pow'r in the blood.

In Romans Chapter 6, the Apostle Paul reminds us of the power found in belief in Christ, the Savior:

And we know that our old being has been put to death with Christ on his cross, in order that the power of the sinful self might be destroyed, so that we should now longer be the slaves of sin. For when we die, we are set free from the power of sin. Since we have died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him...In the same way you are to think of yourselves as dead, so far as sin is concerned...Sin must no longer rule in your mortal bodies, so that you obey the desires of your natural self. Nor must you surrender any part of yourselves to sin to be used for wicked purposes...Sin must not be your master; for you do not live under law but under God's grace.

--Romans 6:5-14 (selected)

Notice that sin is to no longer rule in our mortal bodies. We do not have to wait until we have our eternal bodies! Sin has no power over us now! Do we really believe this, though? Aren't we always making excuses for our failure to live righteously by saying that we are weak in the flesh? But Paul says that we have the power in the blood of Christ and from the indwelling of His Holy Spirit to live righteously now!

Drinking in America: Our Secret History by Susan Cheever, c2015

“Upon all the new settlements the Spaniards make, the first thing they do is build a church,” wrote the British captain Thomas Walduck in 1708, “The first thing the Dutch do upon a new colony is to build them a fort, but the first thing the English do, be it in the most remote part of the world, or amongst the most barbarous Indians, is to set up a tavern or drinking house.” The American Revolution was hatched in taverns where men shored up their resolve and courage by drinking rum and beer. The Mayflower landed where it did, because the travelers were running out of beer, which was used to pay the sailors and keep the passengers happy. There are more intriguing tidbits of information about how the intake of alcohol has helped to shape the character and formation of the United States. In this book by Susan Cheever, a former heavy drinker and child of an alcoholic parent, both those against and for drinking will find plenty of evidence to bolster their claims. (Available at the Lenoir Library.)

How Would God Vote? Why the Bible Commands You to Be a Conservative by David Klinghoffer, c2008

Klinghoffer, a non-Christian Jew, uses the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments, to illuminate the worldview set forth in the Scriptures and how that relates to contemporary political issues. In most instances, he believes God would vote on the conservative side of modern debated issues, such as, immigration, gay marriage, abortion, care for the poor, war and peace and other issues. He finds a pattern in how conservatives and liberals line up on both sides of these and other issues, and believes that it derives from “radically different ways of looking at the world: one in consonance with the Bible, the other very much not.” But he does not stay completely on the Republican side of all issues, and finds that some Republicans have waffled on important issues—moving away from God’s view as defined in the Scriptures.

Except for one or two places where Klinghoffer seems to misread parts of the New Testament (at least we Christians would say so), he makes some very interesting and valid points about how God would vote on various issues by looking at how God has chosen to manifest Himself to the Israelites and through Jesus and the apostles. Klinghoffer’s take on some of the Old Testament laws and events from his Jewish perspective are especially enlightening. He explains, for instance, that children are important because they are the ones who will transmit ancient traditions and religious beliefs to prosperity. Children are not just there to receive parental affection or governmental nurturance. Liberal-minded people would be just as satisfied with a cat or dog; conservatives need children to pass on their heritage, their faith, to the next generation. Children are “our moral future.”

Another part I found intriguing was how Klinghoffer and most Jews view the Islamic religion. The description of Ishmael in the Bible as a wild-ass, a symbol of violence, fits well with his descendents. Yet, the Bible later shows Ishmael helping his half brother Isaac bury Abraham. From this, Klinghoffer believes that the Muslims are redeemable as a people. The Bible shows patterns that history will follow. Ishmael’s story “is one of alienation, jealousy, outrage, and violence—but with repentance, reconciliation, and renewed commitment to the ethical norms of Abrahamic religion at the end...biblical tradition insists that Ishmael is redeemable, and that Islam can be turned to the good.”

On the other hand, Klinghoffer makes a good point that we should be wary of the European Union, because it is based on atheism, and denies all religious traditions and

Amazing Grace DVD

Our church library now has a copy of the movie, "Amazing Grace." This movie dramatizes the fight by William Wilberforce and his compatriots to abolish the slave trade in Great Britain's Empire. In the movie, we also get a glimpse of the man who wrote the song, "Amazing Grace," John Newton, who was William's friend and pastor that encouraged Wilberforce to take up the battle and continue to fight through a long series of setbacks and attacks from those who relied on the trade for their businesses and investments. The war may be long, but God sustains his warriors and gives victory in the end. Praise to God for providing us with such warriors as Wilberforce!

Study guides and video clips are provided with the DVD. Put the DVD in a computer to access the guides. ☆

A Plan for Success?

"Need a plan for success, or at least independent living? It isn't new. Stop turning to government as a first resource. Get married before you have children, stay married and if things get tough seek counseling. Stay in school. Don't take drugs. Develop good character and a sound work ethic. If a good job with a future isn't available where you live, move to a city that offers more opportunity, or start a small business.

In the bidding war for votes, the left is preaching a message of envy, greed and entitlement. Human history proves that message doesn't improve a life. The old values worked. If you're a millennial, ask your grandparents about them, why they worked and how we lost sight of them along the way. Since these values succeeded for previous generations, why don't we reclaim them?"

--Cal Thomas, Oct. 22, 2015

Although this remains good advice, it may not lead to success in today's world. The following books will give you a good idea of why the deck is stacked against many people who are earnestly trying to make a living in the U. S.: $2.00 a Day: Living on Almost Nothing in America by Kathryn J. Edin & H. Luke Shaefer; Nickel and Dime: On (Not) Getting by in America by Barbara Ehrenreich; and Saving Capitalism: for the Many, Not for the Few by Robert B. Reich. (All three are available at the Lenoir Library.)

Something, con't

And what about what Jesus told us:

"I am telling you the truth: those who believe in me will do what I do—yes, they will do even greater things, because I am going to the Father. And I will do whatever you ask for in my name, so that the Father's glory will be shown through the Son. If you ask me for anything in my name, I will do it."

—John 14:12-14 GNT

"But when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, you will be filled with power, and you will be witnesses for me..." -- Acts 1:8a GNT

It seems to me that our emphasis upon the weakness of the flesh and our inborn tendency to rebel against God needs to be muted a little, and more emphasis placed upon the power that we have in Christ Jesus and through the Holy Spirit. We are indeed indwelt by God! Shout it from the rooftops! Cherish this truth in your hearts and minds! The world will be a much less scary place for us if we step up and BELIEVE in GOD's POWER within us, as well as, His power in the world.

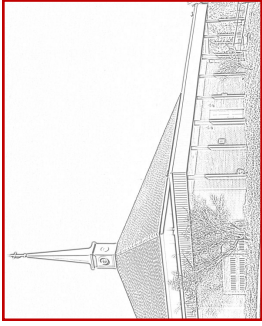

I struggle with this truth constantly. So often, I whine and complain, or fall into periods of anxiety, because I forget the power available for me in Christ. Pray that God will help us all to believe on Him and in the power He provides to us; so that we may live for Him and to do His work in a fallen world. This work and righteous living should be a part of every aspect of our lives. We are not all called to "Christian ministry;" yet we are all called to witness by our righteous living and working to help make the world a better place to live in all that we do.
